DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
2. The present invention is directed to a method of selling a cryptographic service that requires the deduction of funds for operation. The method includes receiving a request for a cryptographic certificate at a metering device, determining if sufficient funds are available for obtaining the certificate, if so, generating a cryptographic key pair at a metering device, sending a certificate request to a certificate authority, receiving a cryptographic certificate including the generated public key from the certificate authority, deducting funds for obtaining the certificate, and activating the private key of the key pair.
3. Public key cryptography and public-key cryptosystems are well known (Fischer 2:46-3:3) as is the use of digital signatures in authentication (Fischer 3:7-40). Further, relying on a trusted authority to insure that each public key used in a public key cryptosystem is associated with the person claiming to be the true author (Fischer 3:54-4:18)
4. The prior art of Fischer (US Patent No. 5,005,200) in view of Taylor (US Patent No. 5,530,232) disclose the cryptographic creation and use of keys in digital signature certification for indicating the identity, authority, and responsibility levels associated with at least a sender of a digital message (Fischer 1:10-16, 11:52-12:6) as well as a metering device and stored value card for commercial transactions (Taylor 2:52-58).

Art Unit: 3685

However, with regard to claim 35, the prior art fails to teach or reasonably suggest singly or in combination "... if sufficient funds are present in the register, generating, at the metering device, a cryptographic key pair including a private key and a public key... and in response to funds being deducted from the register, activating the private key of the cryptographic key pair."

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
